Cut chiles in half lengthwise, and discard stems, seeds, and membranes. Place chile halves, skin side up, on a foil-lined baking sheet, and flatten with hand. Broil 15 minutes or until chiles are blackened. Place in a zip-top plastic bag; seal, and let stand 5 minutes. Peel chiles.

Place roasted chiles, Neufchatel cheese, and next 3 ingredients in a food processor; process until smooth, scraping sides of processor bowl twice. Reserve 6 tablespoons Poblano Cream to top quesadillas.

Combine remaining Poblano Cream, crabmeat, and next 4 ingredients in a medium bowl; gently stir until combined. Spread about 1/2 cup crab mixture on one-half of 1 tortilla; fold tortilla in half to cover filling. Repeat procedure with remaining crab mixture and tortillas. Cover quesadillas with a slightly damp towel to keep them from drying out.

Coat a large nonstick skillet with cooking spray, and place over medium heat until hot. Add 2 quesadillas, and cook 2 minutes on each side or until browned. Remove from skillet; set aside, and keep warm. Repeat procedure with remaining quesadillas.

Cut each quesadilla in half. Top each serving with 1/4 cup chopped tomato and 1 tablespoon reserved Poblano Cream.
