Instructions

Heat the olive oil in a large stock pot (or soup pot). Add the pancetta and sauté until it begins to brown. Add the bay leaves, oregano, thyme and rosemary, stir.

Add the onion, carrots, zucchini, and celery. Continue to sauté for 6 to 7 minutes. Add the garlic and cook for another minute.

Stir in the cannellini beans, crushed tomatoes and chicken stock and water. Add the Kosher salt and fresh ground pepper, bring the mixture to a full boil, then add the ditalini pasta.

Reduce heat to medium and continue to cook for 7 to 8 minutes until pasta is cooked al dente. Remove the bay leaves and rosemary stems, and move the soup pot off of the heat. Allow to rest and cool for a few minutes.

Serve in bowls, can grate fresh Parmigiano cheese on the top.

Notes

Ditalini is the traditional pasta used in Pasta Fagioli. You can substitute other types of dried pasta such as shells or elbow macaroni if you prefer.
