Best Ever Jalapeno Poppers

Description

This is a recipe I made by taking the best of three or four popper recipes and combining them to make something that tastes wonderful. A frequent request at my house, and at others. I usually make 100 and put them in the fridge. They don't last long. Adjust the amount of bacon bits and type of shredded cheese to taste. Increase the recipe as necessary! Lots of tests helps to best figure out the way you like it. Be sure to wear rubber gloves while seeding the jalapenos -- they will burn."

Ingredients

- 12 oz cream cheese softened
- 8 oz shredded cheddar cheese
- 6 tbsp bacon crumbles
- 12 oz jalapeno peppers seeded and halved
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup flour
- 1 cup seasoned dry bread crumbs or panko
- 2 qt oil for frying

Instructions

In a medium bowl, mix the cream cheese, Cheddar cheese and bacon bits.

Spoon this mixture into the jalapeno pepper halves.

Put the milk and flour into two separate small bowls.

Dip the stuffed jalapenos first into the milk then into the flour, making sure they are well coated with each.

Allow the coated jalapenos to dry for about 10 minutes.

Dip the jalapenos in milk again and roll them through the breadcrumbs.

Allow them to dry, then repeat to ensure the entire surface of the jalapeno is coated.

In a medium skillet, heat the oil to 365 degrees F (180 degrees C).

Deep fry the coated jalapenos 2 to 3 minutes each, until golden brown.

Remove and let drain on a paper towel.

One more thing dont be afraid to STUFF them! I wasnt sure if you could put to much so I kind of held back a little! Next time I will load them up!

Notes

Can leave a few seeds for heat or use pepperjack cheese, If you like the heat, add the seeds and membrane (to your liking) to the cheese mixture. Caution - seeds will make them VERY hot.

Can bake at 350 until cheese is hot and bubbly

Definitely triple coat

Thanksgiving 2012

They freeze really well. After frying them I allowed them to cool, then put them on a cookie sheet and put them in the freezer for a few hours.

Once they were frozen I stored them in a freezer bag. I reheated them at 425 degrees for about 15 minutes. They came out great and reheating them softened the pepper.

You can flash freeze the poppers BEFORE frying. Throw them into a freezer bag and whenever I want some poppers I can fry up as many or as little as needed. They are just as awesome from the freezer and You can get all the hard work done in one day! Thank you for this crowd pleaser!!!

Beware though, DEFINITELY USE GLOVES!

Also, I like to add garlic powder to the flour....can't go wrong there.

Boil the peppers for a few minutes to make them soft.

To make the stuffing process easier, roll the cheese mix up like a snake (like you would do with Play-Doh).

Broccoli Cheese & Cracker Casserole

- 1/4 cup heavy cream
- 1/4 tsp cayenne pepper more for more spice
- 1 tbsp dijon

Plunge broccoli into boiling water and allow to boil for 1 minute. Strain and set aside.

Throw into a large pot with milk, cream, salt, pepper, and cayenne.

Melt, stirring occasionally, until totally smooth. Stir in Dijon if using.

Add broccoli to cheese sauce, then add half of the cracker crumbs.

Maple Pan Roasted Baby Carrots

Description

For this recipe, baby carrots are ideal, but you can also use mature carrots if you cut them down to size (see tip below). Do not use bagged "baby cut" carrots.

You start cooking the carrots on the stovetop and then move them to the hot oven to roast. The direct heat of the stovetop jump-starts the caramelizing of the carrots.

Ingredients

- 1 tbsp olive oil
- 1 lb baby carrots
- 1 tbsp maple syrup
- 1/2 tsp kosher salt
- 1/4 tsp pepper

Instructions

Position a rack in the middle of the oven and heat the oven to 400°F.

In a large (12-inch) ovenproof skillet or sauté pan, heat the oil over high heat (the oil shouldn't smoke but should crackle when you add the carrots). Add the carrots and cook, stirring frequently, until they blister and turn golden brown in spots, 1 to 2 minutes. Add the maple syrup, salt, and pepper and toss well to coat the carrots. Remove from the heat.

Spread the carrots evenly in the skillet and transfer it to the hot oven. Roast until the carrots are tender, browned in spots, and just a little shriveled, 12 to 15 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper before serving.

Notes

To cut a large carrot into 6 baby-carrot-size pieces, slice the carrot in half crosswise; then halve the narrower bottom end and quarter the wider stem end.

Roasted Butternut Squash Panzanella

Source: Chow Recipes

Description

Panzanella (Italian bread salad) is traditionally a summertime dish made with ripe tomatoes, but the premise of stale bread tossed with dressing and seasonal vegetables can be translated to any time of year. Here, roasted squash, toasted bread cubes, walnuts, and dried cranberries are coated with a roasted-garlic-and-shallot balsamic dressing for a wintry spin. Serve this hearty bread salad underneath a whole roasted chicken to sop up all the juices from the bird.

Ingredients

- 2 medium shallots trimmed, peeled and halved
- 3 medium garlic cloves peeled
- 1/4 cup plus 2 TBsp olive oil
- 8 oz day old crusty bread cut into 1/2 inch cubes
- 3 lb butternut squash, peeled, seeded and cut into 1/2 inch cubes
- 1/2 tsp Sage
- 3 tbsp balsamic vinegar
- 1 tsp honey
- 1/4 tsp kosher salt
- 1/4 tsp pepper
- 1/2 cup dried cranberries
- 1/2 cup walnuts toasted and coarsly chopped

Instructions

Heat the oven to 400°F and arrange a rack in the middle

Place the shallots and garlic on an 8-inch-long piece of foil and drizzle with 1 tablespoon of the oil.

Bring the sides of the foil together and tightly fold down to seal into a packet.

Place directly on the oven rack and roast until the shallots and garlic are softened and browned, about 45 minutes.

Meanwhile, toast the bread and roast the squash:

Place the bread in a single layer on a baking sheet.

Move the foil packet aside on the oven rack as necessary, place the bread in the oven, and bake until toasted, about 6 to 8 minutes.

Remove the bread to a large bowl and set aside.

Wipe any crumbs off the baking sheet and set it aside.

Leave the foil packet off to one side of the oven rack.

Place the squash in a second large bowl.

Add the sage and 1 tablespoon of the oil, and season generously with salt and pepper.

Toss until the squash pieces are evenly coated.

Thanksgiving 2012

Transfer the squash to the reserved baking sheet and spread into an even layer.

Roast next to the foil packet for 15 minutes.

Using a flat metal spatula, stir the squash, scraping it up from the baking sheet and spreading it back into an even layer.

Continue roasting until the squash is browned on one or two sides and fork tender, about 10 to 15 minutes more.

Place the baking sheet on a wire rack; set aside.

When the shallots and garlic are ready, remove the foil packet from the oven and carefully open it.

Transfer the shallots and garlic to a blender and add the vinegar, honey, and measured salt and pepper.

Cover and blend on high speed until smooth.

With the motor running, remove the small cap from the blender lid, slowly add the remaining 1/4 cup of oil in a thin stream, and blend until smooth.

Leave the vinaigrette in the blender.

Add the roasted squash, cranberries, and walnuts to the bowl with the bread.

Drizzle with the vinaigrette and toss until all of the ingredients are well coated.

Let sit at room temperature until the flavors meld and the bread softens slightly, at least 10 minutes.

Serve warm or at room temperature.

Thanksgiving 2012

Turkey Tetrazzini

Ingredients

- 1 1/2 lb thin spaghetti broken in half
- 4 tbsp butter
- 4 clove garlic - minced
- 1 lbs mushrooms quartered
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1 cup white wine
- 1/3 cup flour
- 4 cup chicken or turkey broth
- 8 oz cream cheese
- 3 cup leftover turkey shredded or diced
- 1 cup chopped black olives
- 1 1/2 cup frozen peas
- 4 slice bacon fried and cut into bits
- 1 cup grated monterey jack cheese
- 1 cup parmesan cheese
- 1 cup panko bread crumbs

Instructions

Cook pasta until not quite done - al dente according to package instructions (it will finish cooking in the oven.)
Drain, rinse, and set aside.

In a large pot, heat butter over medium-high heat.

Add garlic and saute for a couple of minutes.

Add mushrooms and salt, then saute for a couple more minutes.

Pour in the wine and allow it to cook with the mushrooms for several minutes, or until the liquid reduces by half.

Sprinkle in flour, then stir the mushrooms around for another minute.

Pour in the broth and stir, cooking for another few minutes until the roux thickens.

Reduce heat to medium low.

Cut cream cheese into pieces and add it to the pot.

Stir it to melt (don't be concerned if the cream cheese remains in little bits for awhile; it'll melt eventually!)

Add the leftover turkey, the olives, the peas, the bacon, and the cheeses.

Stir to combine, adding salt and pepper as needed.

Add the cooked spaghetti and stir it to combine.

Splash in more broth as needed; you want the mixture to have a little extra moisture since it will cook off in the oven. If it's a little soupy, that's fine!

Add up to 2 more cups of liquid if you think it needs it.

Thanksgiving 2012

Pour the mixture into a large baking dish and sprinkle the top with Panko crumbs.

Bake at 350 degrees F for 20 minutes, or until the casserole is bubbly and the crumbs are golden brown.

Notes

You'll absolutely love this, guys. Just be sure to put it into the oven slightly soupy; I didn't quite add enough moisture this time and it really did need the extra splash.

Thanksgiving 2012

Zucchini Rice Gratin

Description

It's hearty and very fall/winter-ish; it would be great on a Thanksgiving table. It involves wild rice, greens, caramelized onions, a nutty cheese and breadcrumbs and it makes a spectacular amount of gratin. When we make it at home, we reheat it for a few nights as a dinner side-dish and everyone inhales it. It's warm and filling and I hope you will love it too.

Ingredients

- 1/3 cup white rice long grain
- 5 tbsp olive oil
- 1 1/2 lb zucchini about 3 medium sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1/2 lb plum Tomatoes sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1 medium onion halved lengthwise and thinly sliced
- 3 clove garlic minced
- 2 large eggs beaten
- 1 tsp fresh thyme leaves chopped
- 1/2 cup grated parm cheese

Instructions

Preheat oven to 450°F.

Cook the rice according to your favorite method. The package directions work in some cases, but check my notes above about adjustments I find I have to make. If you cook the rice in a large, wide-ish covered skillet, it might cook even faster but you'll have the chance to use it again (and save on dirty dishes) when you need to cook the onions in a bit.

While rice cooks, coat two large (or, if you have the same pitifully small oven as I do, three smaller) baking sheets each with a tablespoon of a of olive oil (a bit less for smaller pans).

Spread zucchini and tomato slices on the baking sheets in as close to a single layer as you can.

Sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt and a few grinds of black pepper.

Roast tomatoes for 10 minutes and zucchini for 20.

Flip zucchini halfway through; it's not worth the messy effort for the tomatoes. Leave oven on.

Heat large, heavy skillet (such as the one you used to cook your rice) over medium heat.

Once hot, add 2 tablespoons olive oil, heat oil, then add onions, garlic and 1/4 teaspoon salt to pan.

Cover and reduce heat to low, cooking onion until limp and tender, about 15 to 20 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Combine onion mixture, rice, eggs, thyme, half of your grated cheese and a half-tablespoon of olive oil in a bowl.

Add a good amount of freshly ground black pepper.

Use the remaining half-tablespoon of olive oil to coat a shallow 2-quart baking dish.

Spread half of rice mixture in bottom of dish.

Arrange half of roasted zucchini on top.

Thanksgiving 2012

Spread remaining rice mixture over it and please don't worry about being neat about this; dinner will be "rustic" tonight!

Arrange remaining zucchini on top, then tomato slices.

Sprinkle with remaining grated cheese and bake until set and golden brown, about 20 minutes.

Each oven varies, but I find mine does the very best browning when the dish is on a rack near the top of the oven.
